J. EMORY BAIR TAKEN BY DEATH

Was Cashier of the Gettysburg National Bank for Forty Years. Prominently Identified with the Town's Interests.

J. Emory Bair, for many years one of Gettysburg's most influential citizens, died this morning at half past nine o'clock after an illness of long duration. He was aged 69 years, 1 month and 19 days.

Mr. Bair had been failing since 1905 when he was compelled by ill health to give up his duties as cashier of the Gettysburg National Bank, with which institution he had been actively connected for a period of forty years. About a year ago his condition was made more critical by a stroke of paralysis and he gradually became weaker until about two weeks ago when the decline became very rapid and the end followed this morning.

John Emory Bair was born in Hanover on January 15, 1845, a son of Edward and Delilah L. (Gitt) Bair. He was one of three children, his sister, Mrs. Jacob Slagle, having died about three years ago while one brother, G. Milton Bair, is now in Hanover in the insurance and real estate business.

Before coming to Gettysburg Mr. Bair was connected with the Hanover Saving Fund Society and on February 19, 1867 was appointed teller of the Gettysburg National Bank to succeed John H. McClellan. On May 1st, 1867, he was appointed cashier of that bank, succeeding T. D. Carson. In this capacity he served until January 1st, 1908, on which date, by reason of impaired health, he retired.

On November 26, 1868, he married Miss Mary C. Kohler, daughter of Jesse and Sarah (Kindig) Kohler, of Hanover, who alone survives him. Mr. Bair was always interested in everything pertaining to the progress and welfare of Gettysburg. He was keenly alive to everything that would promote the prosperity of the town and for some years was connected with the Gettysburg Knitting Company, the Gettysburg Canning Company and the Land Improvement Company. He was also a member of the Board of Trustees of Gettysburg College for a number of years.

He was one of the original stockholders and organizers of the Washington Loan and Trust Company, a leading financial institution of the District of Columbia.

Mr. Bair was a veteran of the Civil War, having served in Captain E. B. Fannos' Independent Cavalry, and he belonged to Corporal Skelly Post, 9, Grand Army of the Republic. He was a member of Gettysburg Lodge 1045, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks and was also a member of the College Lutheran Church.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed. Burial will be made on the family lot in Hanover. Further notice will be given.

APPROVE ARCH OVER AVENUE

Massachusetts Memorial Commission Secures Approval of Plan to Place Arch over Hancock Avenue at Taneytown Road.

The approval of the National Park Commission and the Secretary of War has been secured to the plan which provides for the erection of a massive memorial arch by the State of Massachusetts over the entrance to Hancock Avenue at the Taneytown road, opposite the National Cemetery. The Massachusetts Commission, which had the matter in charge, recommends the appropriation of $50,000 for the erection of the arch and intimates that other similar arches may be erected over the avenues on the battlefield. Concerning its own choice and plans for the memorial the report of the commission says:

"The Commission after interviews with the National Park Commission—sometimes known as the Gettysburg Battlefield Commission—secured approval of the designs submitted and the recommendation to the Secretary of War that Massachusetts be authorized to erect a memorial arch over the entrance to the battlefield on Hancock avenue, where it commences at the Taneytown road, directly opposite the National Cemetery. This recommendation the Secretary has approved.

"This location probably is most desirable that could be obtained. It is at that point where the battle raged on the afternoon and evening of July 2 and the forenoon of July 3. It is within five minutes' walk of "High Water Mark" and of "The Angle." From the observation roof of the memorial an excellent view will be afforded of nearly all the battlefield. It is closely adjacent to that part over which General Lee's troops charged under General Pickett, and of the "stone wall" where was recorded the apex of the high wave of rebellion and which thereafter receded. It is at this point, arching Hancock avenue, that Massachusetts will forever be welcoming the peoples of the world through its entrance to the field of one of sixteen great battles recorded in the world's history. Pennsylvania has erected a magnificent structure there, costing about $150,000; New York has set up a monument costing some $75,000, and New Jersey one at a lesser cost. If Massachusetts erects a memorial arch, she will have the proud distinction of having the only one upon the Gettysburg battlefield.

"The Commission recommends that a memorial arch be erected upon the location secured, approximately as is shown by drawings submitted. It is proposed to build this arch of solid and enduring masonry, so that it may always be beyond the necessity of repairs. Approximately, it will be forty-two feet wide, sixteen feet deep and fifty feet high. The archway piercing it, through which Hancock avenue passes, will be about eighteen feet wide and thirty-one feet high. Stairways of concrete will lead first, to a storeroom or chamber above the arch, where will be preserved such records as may be desirable, and second to a lookout covering the entire top of the arch. It is intended that in the parapet surrounding this outlook arrows will be cut with proper lettering, pointing the directions to the different portions of the battlefield.

"The arch should be built exclusively of Massachusetts materials, either granite or marble, preferably the former for the exterior, as may be determined upon.

"It is intended to reduce the sculpture and ornament to the lowest terms, depending upon the mass and design for effect. Appropriate inscriptions of the Massachusetts organizations which participated in the battle, will be provided. On the upper portion of the arch it is intended to place, on one front, the arms of the Commonwealth; below, on the keystone of the arch, the American eagle, and on the other front (the arch having practically two fronts) either the arms of the United States or the single word, "Massachusetts," as may be determined, and below on the keystone, the figure of the Indian from the State arms.

"A careful examination of the present market ordinances has failed to disclose any defect that requires modification or amendment and it is therefore recommended that the present market ordinances be permitted to stand as they are now written."

"The representatives of the truckers stated to the committee that a large majority of the truckers were unwilling to bring their produce to Gettysburg if they were required to peddle it from door to door in order to dispose of it. They also stated that they were unwilling to attend the market if the peddling of produce was permitted during market hours."

The report was signed by John D. Keith, chairman of the committee. One member, Althodore Bushman, owing to serious illness, was not consulted as to the report and recommendations.

TOWN COUNCIL'S MARCH MEETING

Curb Market and New Automobile Fire Engine Get Consideration at the Hands of Council. Favorable Report on the Market.

The report of the special committee recommending the purchase of a $7500 automobile fire engine, together with the report of the ordinance committee advising the discontinuance of the curb market featured the March meeting of the Town Council Tuesday night.

The special committee of Council, Messrs. Keith, Trostle and Butt, recommended as follows on the fire apparatus matter:

"That the borough of Gettysburg purchase a LaFrance combination gasoline, motor driven pump and chemical apparatus at a price of $7500, of which fifty per cent. is to be paid out of borough funds and the remaining fifty per cent. is to be assumed and paid by the Gettysburg Steam Fire Company out of proceeds of public subscriptions taken for that purpose." The report was also signed by G. A. McClellan, F. B. Slonaker, Henry Stewart and W. B. Fleming, members of a Fire Company Committee, and by J. C. Wierman, Fire Chief.

The report was received and the committee discharged, after which Messrs. Trostle, Stock and Gilbert were appointed to confer with a citizens' committee concerning the purchase of apparatus. Council accordingly took no definite action on the purchase of the engine, but will go into the matter more thoroughly. Charles E. Stahle, Esq., chairman of the citizens' committee, was present Tuesday night and asked for a special committee from Council.

Curb Market.
Mr. Keith, chairman of the ordinance committee, presented an exhaustive report on the curb market contention, going into the objections voiced in the report of the market committee a month ago, telling of the conference with the truckers, reported in The Times of recent date, and covering all the objections thoroughly. Striking sentences from the report are the following:

"If the ordinance committee is to be confined strictly to the reasons given in the recommendation of the market committee, it must report that the reasons stated are entirely insufficient to justify the town council in discontinuing the present curb market."

"The bad management of the market can and ought to be corrected."

"Bad management causing high prices can likewise be corrected."

"The inconvenience and annoyance caused by truckers accepting orders in advance of market days or hours, should not be permitted to exist. It is the strongest reason advanced by the market committee against the curb market. But this evil is also based entirely upon and the direct result of bad management, hence it can be readily corrected."

"We can find no justification in the market committee basing its recommendation upon the statement that the truckers desire the discontinuance of the market because they lose valuable time in peddling their unsold goods after market hours, and because they cannot peddle any morning in the week. These reasons are inconsistent with the other reasons given. The purpose in establishing the market was for the convenience of the citizens of Gettysburg, not the convenience of the market men. One of its purposes was to eliminate the peddling of the produce from door to door, causing endless annoyance and trouble to citizens who did not desire to purchase produce."

"A careful examination of the present market ordinances has failed to disclose any defect that requires modification or amendment and it is therefore recommended that the present market ordinances be permitted to stand as they are now written."

"The representatives of the truckers stated to the committee that a large majority of the truckers were unwilling to bring their produce to Gettysburg if they were required to peddle it from door to door in order to dispose of it. They also stated that they were unwilling to attend the market if the peddling of produce was permitted during market hours."

The report was signed by John D. Keith, chairman of the committee. One member, Althodore Bushman, owing to serious illness, was not consulted as to the report and recommendations.

66 MAROONED ON RAILROAD TRAINS

ROBBED SAFES WHILE CONVICT

Prisoner Confessed Directing Several "Hauls" While Under Sentence. Mineola, N. Y., March 4.—The grand jury investigated the alleged confession of a prisoner who said that for two years he has been using the Nassau county jail as the base of safe-cracking expeditions into the neighboring country.

According to this prisoner, he has taken part in most of the recent post office robberies in Long Island, and even pushed his marauding trips into New Jersey and the suburbs north of New York city.

On one occasion, he says, he used the jail as a temporary storehouse for loot taken from a store in Fort Washington.

The scandal involves, also, several women prisoners, who allege that they were mistreated by the keepers and by some of the more favored prisoners, who had money.

The prisoner, who told of his activities as a burglar was one of those named by the women, and his alleged confession was made after the authorities had begun to investigate their stories.

Philadelphia, March 4.—With the windows in the coaches smashed by a falling tree, the wind blowing forty-five miles an hour, and with the fires under the engine drawn to prevent a possible explosion, thirty-five passengers passed a night of suffering on a stalled train on the Northeast Pennsylvania railroad between Ivyland and Johnsburg, on Sunday night.

They were rescued and taken to Ivyland Monday. One passenger "got through" to Hatboro on Tuesday by bucking the drifts on foot. He says the other passengers are still marooned at Ivyland, about fifteen miles from Philadelphia.

With all wires down, no telephonic communication to Ivyland, and with this little side line of the Reading so tied up that it cannot be opened until late today, these blizzard sufferers will hardly reach their homes in Philadelphia or the northern suburbs until tonight.

Thirty passengers on a northbound train on the same division, stalled near the same point, were rescued from the train after being held prisoners all of Sunday night. They are now at two farm houses near Ivyland.

The southbound train, confronted by steadily increasing drifts, bucked drift after drift, with little success. The fallen tree was encountered, and the outsprung limbs smashed windows in each car. After dark the train was stalled between Johnsburg and Ivyland.

The snow swirled into the cars through the broken windows. The passengers tried to keep out the cold by piling the plush seats against the smashed windows. Then their sufferings were increased because it was necessary to draw the fires in the engine to prevent a possible explosion.

It was Monday morning before the passengers were rescued and taken to Ivyland.

Gordon B. Anderson, of the University of Pennsylvania, determined to get through. He battled over three and one-half miles of snow-clogged highways to Hatboro. He reached there almost exhausted, and told Chief Burgess Penrose Robinson of the bad plight of his party. After resting he started on foot for the six miles yet intervening between Hatboro and Glenside. It was the only method left to him, for both trolley and train service were demoralized, although train service from Glenside to Philadelphia was possible.

The passengers on the northbound train, stalled between Ivyland and Johnsburg, spent a terrifying night in the cars, getting what sleep was possible by lying on the seats. Some time Monday morning they were rescued by trainmen and farmers of the section, who dug through the drifts. The women and children were taken to the farmhouse of John Raab and the men to the home of Alfred Verker.

Hatboro, Ivyland, Johnsburg, Bonair and other communities along the line of the Northeast Branch to points as far distant as New Hope and even Willow Grove and Crestmont, in the Old York Road section, were removed from outside affairs.

Mr. Post has been afflicted with chronic appendicitis for twenty years.

BISHOP THOMAS BOWMAN DIES.

Orange, N. J., March 4.—Bishop Thomas Bowman, formerly president of De Paul university, died here at the home of his daughter. He was ninety-seven years old. Bishop Bowman was the patriarch of Methodism in America. No other bishop in the service of that church ever reached such an advanced age. He had been affectionately known for a generation as the "grand old man of the faith."

The suffragists told the committee woman suffrage would be harmful "not only to women, but to the country." At the conclusion of the hearings, Dr. Mary Walker, trousered, presented to the committee what she called "the crowning constitutional argument" to show that women already have the right to vote under the constitution.

The suffragists who appeared were divided. Mrs. Antoinette Funk, Mrs. McMill McCormick and Mrs. William Kent, representing the National Woman Suffrage association, urged that if the committee would not report the proposed amendment it report one to allow the question to be decided by referendum instead of by legislatures. Mrs. Benedict and others for the Congressional Union declared the time had come to wage the suffrage question one of political expediency.

Hurried and careless habits of eating, irregular meals and foods that do not harmonize, tend to weaken the digestive organs and result in different forms of stomach trouble.

If you are one of the unfortunate who have drifted into this condition, eat simple foods only, slowly, regularly and take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic.

Mrs. H. J. Smith, Thomasville, Ga., says: "I suffered from a stomach trouble was tired, worn out and nervous. A friend advised me to take Vinol. My stomach trouble soon disappeared and now I eat heartily and have a perfect digestion and I wish every tired, weak woman could have Vinol, for I never spent any money in my life that did me so much good."

The recovery of Mrs. Smith was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cod's livers—aided by the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol. We will return the purchase money every time Vinol fails to benefit. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

NEARER, MY GOD, TO THEE

Sarah Flower, born at Great Harlow, England, in 1805, married William Bridges Adams, a civil engineer, in 1834, and for his sake gave up the dramatic ambitions and career to which she had looked forward.

"Nearer My God to Thee" was written by her in 1840, and first published by the Rev. William J. Fox, at London, in a Hymnal for his Church.

Later, the air to which it is now sung was adapted to it by Lowell Mason from one of Sir John Andrew Stevenson's "Irish Melodies." It will be remembered that President McKinley, just before his last farewell, said, "It is God's way. His will be done, not ours," and whispered, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and on the Sunday following, in many churches (as on Thursday at the funeral services) this great hymn was sung by thousands, not only in Protestant churches but by Catholic cathedrals, and notably at a Memorial Service ordered by King Edward VII, in Westminster Abbey.

SILAGE FOR HORSES.

Handled With Care It Makes an Excellent Winter Feed.

The value of silage for horses is greatest as a means to carry them through the winter season cheaply or to supplement pasture during drought. To cheapen the ration of brood mares in winter no feed has more value than good corn silage. If grain goes into the silo with the stover no additional grain is needed for brood mares, hay being the only supplemental feed necessary. If there is little grain on the corn the silage should be supplemented with one pound of old process linseed oil meal or cottonseed meal daily per thousand pounds live weight, sprinkled over the silage.

Horses to be wintered on a silage and hay ration should be started on about five pounds of silage daily per thousand pounds live weight, the grain and hay ration being gradually decreased as the silage is increased until the ration is twenty pounds silage and ten pounds of hay daily per thousand pounds live weight. It will require about a month to reach the full feed of silage, but the period may be decreased somewhat, depending on the judgment and skill of the feeder.

Mares fed in this manner will be in splendid condition for foaling, and, so far as the writer's experience goes, the foals will be fully as vigorous, with just as much size and bone, as if the mares were fed the conventional grain and hay ration.—U. S. Department of Agriculture Bulletin.

Weed Seeds In Silage Killed.

That the seeds of the common field weeds when sown with corn, peas or any other forage used as silage will not retain sufficient vitality to germinate in the spring when returned to the land mixed with manure is the belief of experiment station men. While there are not experiments on record with regard to the combined chemical action of silage and manure on the germination of seeds, it is quite likely that there is little danger of seedling valuable fields with noxious weeds in this manner.—Kansas Farmer.

Watch Straw Fed Horses.

Horses' mouths should be examined regularly once a week when feeding on wheat straw. The beards from the grain ball up in the horse's mouth and penetrate the gums, sometimes causing the animal to have a very sore mouth, and it refuses to eat. The hard clots are easily removed. A change of feed occasionally for a day helps to keep the horses' mouths free from rankers.

DELAYS ACTION IN BENTON CASE

British Not to Let Mexican Killing Rest.

GREY OUTLINES POSITION

Cannot Force United States to Intervene and Insists Use of Force by England Would Be Futile.

London, March 4.—That the British government can take no immediate action in connection with the deadlock between the United States and General Venustiano Carranza, "first chief" of the Mexican rebels, over the joint American and British investigation of the death at Juarez of William S. Benton, was the view expressed by Sir Edward Grey, the foreign minister.

This attitude was made quite plain by Sir Edward in his promised "considered statement" to the house of commons.

Sir Edward was equally explicit in pointing out that if Great Britain failed to obtain satisfaction through the United States, the British government reserved to itself the right to obtain reparation whenever it was able to do so.

The foreign minister was no less emphatic in letting it be known that Carranza's demand that the British government deal with him directly in investigating the Benton case, would be disregarded.

This was brought out by a question as to whether the British government had recognized General Villa, Carranza's chief aid, as a belligerent. Sir Edward stated flatly that this recognition had not been accorded.

Another question asked by the opposition in an attempt to learn what the American policy would be as concerns the Constitutionalists brought the answer that the foreign secretary was unaware that the United States "had made any declaration on this subject."

A further question brought the statement that no assurances had been obtained from President Huerta regarding the protection of British subjects in Mexico.

The pronouncement on the Mexican situation had been anxiously awaited.

There was a large attendance of the members of commons, who received it with closest attention. Intense interest has been displayed throughout Great Britain over what is regarded as the attempt on the part of Carranza to sow discord between England and the United States, and also over the repeated delays in the Benton investigation.

Another American killed.

El Paso, Tex., March 4.—Anti-Mexican bitterness burst into flame again here when confirmation was received of the murder of John Harmon, an American, at Madera, Mex.

This was fanned by statements of Mexican officials that Harmon was killed in a private quarrel and that his death had no political significance.

According to the Constitutionalists officials in Juarez, Harmon, who came from Syracuse, N. Y., and was the representative of the Pearson interests at Madera, was killed in his own home by his housekeeper, a Mexican woman, and her son, Miguel Alvarez. Harmon was strangled and beaten to death. Both Alvarez and his mother were arrested.

BRYAN AGAIN A GRANDFATHER

Secretary Reaches Office Late, But Gives Satisfactory Excuse.

Washington, March 4.—Secretary of State Bryan became a grandfather for the sixth time, when Mrs. Richard D. Hargreaves, of Lincoln, Neb., his daughter, became the mother of an eight-pound girl.

The secretary of state reached his office an hour late, wearing a broad smile and apparently forgetful of the Mexican situation and other affairs of moment awaiting him.

"I think I can be forgiven for being a little late," said Secretary Bryan, "for a man doesn't become a grandfather every day, and even though I have had the experience five times before, it never loses its charm. The mother and child are both doing well."

No Hope For Cardinal Kopp.

Breslau, Germany, March 4.—Hope was abandoned for Cardinal George Kopp, the highest dignitary of the Roman Catholic church in Germany, who is suffering from acute meningitis. Word from Toppau, where the seventy-four-year-old prelate is lying ill, said that the attending physicians expect ed death at any time.

Big Money For Snow Shovels.

Norristown, Pa., March 4.—The electric companies are paying 35 cents an hour to workmen to shovel through eight and twelve-feet snow drifts that cars may run. There are miles of deep snow on the Lehigh Valley Transit lines between Norristown and Allentown.

Brigadier General J. W. Barlow Dead. New London, Conn., March 4.—Word reached here of the death at Jerusalem of Brigadier General John F. Barlow, U. S. A., retired. General and Mrs. Barlow sailed for Europe on Feb. 2 to make a tour of the Holy Land.
